

Dr Sundari Ramakrishna
Mengo

Sundari Ramakrishna has worked in schools in Malaysia teaching Science and Biology for secondary children for 12 years. Currently as a civil society activist in Sustainable Development and Environmental Protection, she advocates innovative education by using new learning tools to inculcate an interest and sound understanding of what is sustainable living and conservation of natural resources. She has a Diploma in Education from the University of London.