Company Description:

EuroTalk publishes the world's most popular series of multimedia software programs for language learning. Our products are proven as an effective tool in raising standards of language learning in schools and colleges throughout the world. We offer 115 languages at all levels - including both British and American English. Workstations in a computer suite can be transformed into a language lab using our networking software at a fraction of the cost of a hardware installation.

We will also be demonstrating our new mini-laptop, which comes preloaded with learning content relevant from across the curriculum. Come to our stand to find how it works.
