

This practical session will provide an overview of what is meant by the term 'Educational Sustainable Development', and how its application can enhance the learning process. We will then look at how ESD can be integrated into the Malaysian schools