Company Description:

UK 3B Scientific is a member of the International 3B Scientific®Group of companies, specialising in the supply of equipment and materials for Scientific, Medical and Patient Education. In addition to our acclaimed, market-leading range of Anatomy products, we have developed a splendid catalogue of equipment for Physics and Technology; manufacturing a growing range within the Total Quality Management environments of our production facilities in London, Klingenthal and Budapest - all certified under DIN EN ISO 9001.

Of particular significance has been the addition of the Teltron® brand, acquired in 2005; with the full range of Thermionic Tubes, Tube Holders and Helmholtz Coils now manufactured in our custom-equipped facility in West London.

Our relationships with customers are firmly based on the provision of Quality, Service & Value for money; and in addition to significant local knowledge within both the UK marketplace and Internationally, we are able to draw on the full resources of the 3B Scientific® Group, to satisfy the extensive equipping requirements of Ministries of Education at both Secondary and Tertiary levels, as well as the teaching equipment needs of Medical Schools, Colleges, Universities and Hospitals.

We look forward to meeting both established and new customers, in the hope that you will together enjoy the benefits of what we call ... the 3B Experience!
